

Ammunition Management

Published 12/13/2011

The Analysis & Evaluation Team is currently developing a comprehensive Ammunition Management directive. Information collected from previous Ammunition Conference working groups, and subsequent follow on meetings, is being compiled for the Strategic Steering Board and Operating Forces review. The A&E team would like to thank those that have contributed in helping us refine and redefine our business processes. Our goal is to provide you with the necessary processes and procedures to aid in the achievement of the DoDs Inventory Accuracy standards and our combined efforts will ensure success in 2012. Have a wonderful holiday season!
